COURT TO DECIDE

JAPANESE QUESTIONS WILL BE THRESHED OUT.

SUIT TO TEST STATE STATUTE

SEPARATE SCHOOLS THE CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE

ACTION INSPIRED BY ROOT

New Treaty Between U. S. and Japan Is Not Contemplated—Roosevelt Is Scored by Allman and Is Praised by Pres. Wheeler. "Tempest in Teapot."

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—In accordance with instructions received from Attorney General Moody, United States District Attorney Robert T. Devlin this afternoon held a conference in his office with President Aaron Altmann of the board of education, City Attorney Wm. J. Burke and Assistant Secretaries Wm. Jaggett and John Williams, to discuss the exclusion of Japanese from schools attended by whites, with a view of framing a suit to test the state statute which requires the segregation of children of Mongolian parentage in separate schools.

Proceedings, technically known as "controversy without action," will be brought either in the supreme court of California or in the federal court.

The points in dispute were practically agreed on at today's conference, but the drafting of the statement of facts was postponed until Friday by unanimous consent. Mr. Devlin, in the meantime, will communicate with Attorney General Moody as to whether the proceedings shall be brought in the supreme court of the state or in one of the federal courts in this district.

Ask High Tribunal For Decision.

He intimated that unless he is instructed to the contrary, he will ask the highest tribunal of the state for a decision. Mr. Devlin said that the whole issue resolves itself into the question of whether the state statute is in violation of the treaty rights of Japan. He is of the opinion that, he law discriminates against the Japanese in as much as German, Irish and other children of foreign parentage and descent are not segregated in separate schools, whereas the treaty with Japan guarantees the Japanese equal rights and privileges with the aliens from other lands.

It is on this basis that the United States district attorney is proceeding, and as only the points agreed upon will be submitted, an early decision is expected from the courts.

Criticises Roosevelt.

In an interview today, President Altmann of the board of education said: "With all due deference to President Roosevelt, I must say that it surprised me that with all the minuteness of detail of information furnished by Victor H. Metcalf, who came to San Francisco as the special representative of the president in this matter, and who, upon his return to Washington, must have undoubtedly placed all of this information at the disposal of the chief executive of this country, there should be such a display of ignorance on the part of the president as to state in his message that Japanese pupils are barred from the public schools of this city.

"He would lead the people outside of San Francisco to believe that we refused an education to the Japanese children. Japanese children have not been excluded from the public schools of San Francisco. The impression already gone forth that the Japanese children were indeed excluded from our local institutions of learning arises from the fact that a section of school law of the state of California providing for a separate school for these children has been put into effect.

"In other words, far from barring the Japanese children from the public schools of San Francisco, the board of education has merely said to them: Attend this particular school and there find all the advantages and facilities which are provided for our own white children."

Government Has No Authority.

"The board of education holds that the government has no authority in the matter of the schools of any state. As proof of this, we refer to the tenth amendments of the constitution of the United States.

"The control of our schools, we maintain, is thus evidently one of the things delegated to the states."

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 5.—President B. I. Wheeler of the University of California, discussing the Japanese school question in San Francisco, tonight said that in a large part he agreed with President Roosevelt.

"Social relations with Japan, both commercially and otherwise," he said, are of prime importance to the Pacific coast and particularly to San Francisco. The school question is really in itself a small matter, at least in volume, for only a small number of pupils involved, many, if not most of these, are adults, and adults should not be allowed in the lower schools, no matter of what race. If it had been only for the children involved, can not think the question would have been raised.

"The real question that is disturbing is as a people concerns the rapid immigration of Japanese laborers, and this question, you must agree know, is safe in the hands of the president, who is at once the well-proven friend of Japan and thoroughgoing American in full sympathy with the needs and aspirations of the people of the Pacific coast.

Immigration Delicate Matter.

"The immigration of peasant coolies will have to be restricted in the interest of conditions here, in the interest of good understanding between the two nations, and ultimately, as we believe, Japan will see it in the interest of Japan herself, but this is a delicate matter, requiring delicate treatement. Japan is a first rate power, and whatever is done will have to be done with her consent and co-operation. It is best not to be disturbed about the president. He understands our situation, and when the clouds roll by he will be found our best friend, too."

Action Inspired by Root.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Inquiry today disclosed the fact that the legal proceedings to be taken in San Francisco by the United States district attorney in the matter of the admission of Japanese to the public schools of that city, without discrimination, were inspired by Secretary Root, who expressed the opinion that it would be one way of effectually disposing of the controversy. That the president's views on the subject met with the hearty approval of the Japanese government was made evident today when Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, said that he had personally thanked the president for what he had said.

No New Treaty.

A rumor that a new treaty between the United States and Japan was to be negotiated, designed to remedy any defects in the one now in force, was set at rest today when both Viscount Aoki and Secretary Root unequivocally denied that such a thing was now in contemplation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The California delegation in congress has received what they consider a satisfactory assurance that the president did not desire to be understood as saying in the Japanese section of his message that he would use the military forces of the United States in forcing Japanese into the California schools in which the white children are taught. It is said to have been his purpose to convey the idea that he would use the military to protect Japanese against mob violence.

Californians take no offense at this interpretation of the measure and agree that the president should do everything in his power to protect Japanese as well as other foreigners against violence.

"Tempest in a Teapot."

"This whole San Francisco affair is proving to be a tempest in a teapot," Representative J. Kahn said today. "It will die out rapidly as soon as there is general understanding of why California takes the position it does.

"The citizen and the public will settle all the legal questions involved in the San Francisco school situation. We are glad to know that the administration is taking steps to institute action which will give the courts a chance to pass on the validity of the San Francisco board of education's action."

TOKIO, Dec. 5.—The stern, firm and determined attitude of President Roosevelt in his message in reference to the San Francisco school question and anti-Japanese sentiment is warmly praised. It is felt that however much the San Francisco authorities may be affected by local sentiment, they can only yield to the moral weight which President Roosevelt's message carries.

HOLDS BRIEF SESSION

SENATE TAKES NO ACTION ON BILLS INTRODUCED.

House Begins Legislative Grind By Passing Three Measures—Favors Amending Banking Laws.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The brief session of the senate today resulted in the introduction of many bills, resolutions and the receipt of a number of communications from the executive departments. Senator Foraker's insistence that immediate action be taken on the pending resolutions for information regarding the discharge of the negro soldiers of the 25th infantry, developed discussion, but resulted in postponing action in the matter until tomorrow.

The senate today decided not to confirm any of the appointees to the president's cabinet until favorable action has been taken on all of the cabinet changes by the committees to which the nominations were referred. Therefore Chairman Hale of the naval committee did not report the nomination of Mr. Metcalf to be secretary of the navy.

House Begins Grind.

The house today, waiting on the report of the appropriation bills, began its legislative grind, by passing three measures—incorporation of the national German-American alliance; authorizing the secretary of the treasury to duplicate gold certificates in lieu of ones lost or destroyed and the bill amending the national banking laws, permitting national banking associations to make loans on real estate as security and limiting the amount of such loans.

The vote on the latter was 111 to 51.

The banking bill, the house viewed the passage of the bill, while the opponents of the measure insisted that real estate was not a proper security for national banks. They contended that the system had proved a failure wherever tried.

Mr. DeArmond of Missouri thought the bill was bad legislation, as it would tend to limit the power of the state banks. "Any man who has unincumbered real estate can get a loan at lower rate of interest from loaning companies than he can from a bank," he said.

Mr. Hepburn of Iowa and Mr. Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, were enthusiastic in favor of the measure.

The Banking bill has been one of the west's favorite measures, and the leaders in the house from that section lined up generally in favor of the legislation which, it was asserted, would go far toward popularizing the national banks.

The house adjourned at 2:53 until noon tomorrow.

THE ONLY COURSE

SECRETARY TAFT UPHOLDS ACT OF PRESIDENT.

RECITES CRIMES OF SOLDIERS

EXTRACT OF REPORT ON NEGRO TROOPS MADE PUBLIC.

NOT MEANT AS PUNISHMENT

Use of Word Penalty in Proceedings a Misnomer—Fact That Men Were Black Had Nothing to Do With Treatment of Them.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—An extract from the original report of Secretary of War Taft, relating to the Brownsville outrage by negro soldiers was made public today. Secretary Taft recites the crimes of the soldiers as already described in news despatches, the failure of the war department to obtain the names of the offenders, and the discharge of the battalion, Secretary Taft justifies the charge, saying:

The Only Course.

"It may be that in the battalion are a number of men wholly innocent, who know neither who the guilty men are nor any circumstances which would aid in their detection, though this can not be true of many. Because there may be innocent men in the battalion, must the government continue to use it to guard communities of men, women and children when it contains so dangerous an element impossible of detection? Certainly not, the only means of ridding the military service of a band of would be murderers of women and children, and actual murderers of one man, is the discharge of the entire battalion.

"It is a mistake to suppose that this order is in itself a punishment either of the innocent or of the guilty. A discharge would be an utterly inadequate punishment for those who are guilty, whether of committing the murder or of withholding or suppressing evidence which would disclose the perpetrators of such a crime. The use of the word penalty in the proceedings is a misnomer and is unfortunate. The dismissal from the service of the members of this battalion, under the circumstances is not a punishment, however great the hardship. There is a dismissal, technically known as a dishonorable discharge, which is only imposed by sentence of a court. This is a punishment. But the members of this battalion were not dishonorably discharged. They could not have been so discharged except after a trial. They were discharged for the good of the service, as the technical phrase is, "without honor." It is not a fortunate phrase, because so easily confused with a dishonorable discharge. It is called "without honor" to distinguish the discharge from a discharge with honor, or an honorable discharge, which indicates the termination, in due course, of a satisfactory service. An enlistment brought prematurely to an end, for the good of the service, cannot be an honorable discharge. Hence the distinction must be made. The discharge without honor is merely the ending of a contract and separation from the service under a right reserved in the statute for the protection of the government, which may work a hardship to the private discharged but which, in the public interest, must sometimes be arbitrarily exercised.

The Color Line.

The suggestion made in some quarters that this batallion has been treated in this way simply because the men are colored, hardly merits notice. The fact of their color and the racial feeling aroused between them and the citizens of Brownsville, may have been the cause and furnished the motive, but certainly not a justification for the plot to murder men, women and children; but to this extent only in explanation of the circumstances is the fact of their color at all relevant.

"In a body of men sworn to uphold the law, enlisted as the instruments of maintaining the supremacy of the law, no obligation of comradeship, which would prevent one from telling the truth and detailing the circumstances that would lead to the convicting of his associates of murder, can be recognized by those in authority and charged with the responsibility of maintaining the discipline of the army.

"It is possible that evidence may be adduced in future which will tend to exculpate entirely some of the men now discharged, both from participation in the crime and assistance in the conspiracy of silence to prevent the detection of offenders, and whenever such facts are shown in respect to anyone affected by the order, they will be brought to your attention and I understand will render such person eligible to re-enlistment."

BAD PANIC AMONG GIRLS

Explosion in Match Factory Causes Wild Excitement.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Eight girls, employed in the factory of F. A. Rathbun and company manufacturers of a novelty paper match, were seriously burned and injured and several others were slightly bruised today in a panic following the explosion of an air tight compartment in which thousands of the matches were stored. The fire department extinguished the flames and the loss will not exceed $1,000.

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—It was announced today that several thousand employes of the Michigan Central railroad have been granted an increase in wages ranging from one to five cents per hour.

EXPOSE AT SHEA TRIAL

Methods Employed in Teamsters' Strike Laid Bare.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—A startling expose of the methods employed in the teamsters strike was given in the trial of Cornelius E. Shea and his fellow labor leaders before Judge Ball in the criminal court today when Joseph Schultz, alleged slugger, who with Albert Young, turned states evidence was on the stand as a witness for the state. Schultz declared that Shea had told him to break the legs and arms of the strike breakers and especially to attack the negroes.

ROOSEVELT FOR THIRD TERM

National League Organized to Increase Sentiment Favorable to Re-election.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The "Roosevelt Third Term National league" has been formed in Chicago today, and application for a charter was made at Springfield. Edward A. Horner, formerly of Leadville, Colorado, is the organizer and president of the league. The national headquarters of the league will be in Chicago. Clubs will be organized in every county and city of the United States.

"We aim to get 5,000,000 members," said Mr. Horner. "It is not our purpose to appeal to politicians. In fact, we do not want them. It is to be a matter which is to come directly from the people, and for myself, I don't care whether President Roosevelt likes it or not. To my mind, he has nothing to say about it. The people have absolute and implicit confidence in him, and we are going to see that they elect him to a third term."

REFUSES TO ACCEPT ALIMONY

Divorced Wife of Slain McDonald Will Take No Money From Former Husband.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—Slain McDonald, well known in Cripple Creek and Colorado Springs, has been released from the county jail after a three weeks' sojourn for the noncompliance with the court's order, wherein he was commanded to pay $1,000 alimony to his wife, Mrs. Mabel McDonald, who recently secured a divorce on the ground of cruelty and non-support.

McDonald today informed Judge Thomas that it was an impossibility to comply with the court order, and the court vacated such order, and instructed the defendant to pay $50 on account for attorney fees, January 1, a similar sum on February 1, and $50 on March 1. The $50 was secured by notes, and the sheriff was instructed to release McDonald from custody. Mrs. McDonald refused to accept any alimony from her former husband.

WRECKS OF A DAY

FOUR REPORTED, WITH TWO FATALITIES.

PASSENGER TRAINS DERAILED

MANY SERIOUSLY INJURED; SOME MAY DIE.

HAND CAR STRIKES A FREIGHT

Blinded by Snow, Section Crew Crashes Into Approaching Train, and One Man Is Killed—Misunderstanding in Orders Results in Death.

LA VETA, Colo., Dec. 5.—Blinded by a heavy snow and windstorm, four members of a section crew riding on a hand car and traveling at lightning speed down La Veta pass, this morning crashed into an extra Denver and Rio Grande freight train at a sharp curve ten miles west of this city. One of the party was killed and the other three injured.

The dead:

CHILLIPI MORA, of La Veta.

Injured:

J. D. Garcia, head and face cut, chest crushed seriously.

Frank Pais, section foreman, head hurt, bruised.

Dolores Valdez, bruised about body and head.

Mora was killed outright and his body mangled beyond recognition. In some unaccountable way when the collision occurred he was thrown forward and the engine and two coaches passed over him before the train was brought to a stop. The other three men were hurled high into the air and clear of the track.

Garcia alighted on his head and sustained injuries which may prove fatal. He was removed to this city, and physicians are now working over him. It is believed that his skull was fractured. He was also badly cut and bruised about the body by coming in contact with the sharp stones.

Raced to Death.

Pais, the foreman of the crew, and Valdez were standing on the rear of the car, and, although thrown to the ground with considerable force, escaped with comparatively slight injuries. They were brought to their homes here. All the men are well known and old-time residents of this city.

According to Engineer Cal Ritchey, the wind and snow blowing in the face of engine crew so blinded them that he was not aware of the danger until the collision occurred. Ritchey is one of the oldest engineers, both in age and point of service, on the road. He is 65 years old and has been running an engine for nearly forty-five years. This is said to be his first fatal accident.

Misunderstanding of Orders.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 5.—A misunderstanding of orders issued by the dispatcher at Green River caused a head on collision today between two light engines with cabooses and an east bound freight on the Union Pacific railroad near Dalys, ninety-five miles west of Rawlins. Fireman C. Johnson was killed by being caught between the tender and the boiler of his engine. Fireman Brown was injured internally and probably fatally. Engineer William Mullen of the east bound train had his nose broken and face disfigured. Engineer Thomas O'Donnell was slightly injured. The two engines were badly smashed. One caboose was burned and one car wrecked. The wrecker from Rawlins cleared the track and traffic was resumed in six hours.

Passenger Derailed.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 5.—Eastbound passenger train No. 4, the Atlantic express on the Union Pacific railroad, was derailed today near Church Buttes, Wyo., 140 miles east of Ogden. Seven persons are reported injured:

Rev. H. Gearhart, University Place, Nev., hand cut.

Ralph James, Osco, Ills., leg bruised.

Clara Mana, Oakley, Ida., arm hurt.

Frank Marks, Ogden, Utah, scalp torn.

P. E. Harbough, Standish, Colo., wound in side.

Brakeman H. T. Marsh, Ogden, scalp wound.

Abbie J. Klepin, postal clerk Union Nebraska, hip bruised.

According to reports received here four sleepers were overturned and two coaches thrown crosswise of the track. A broken flange is reported as the probable cause of the wreck. The train is said to have been running sixty miles an hour when the accident happened.

A relief train carrying surgeons was sent from Evanston, Wyo.

Eight Passengers Injured.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Train No. 38, on the Monon railroad, which is the fast limited of that line between Cincinnati and Chicago, was derailed early today two miles north of Frankfort, Ind., by a broken rail. Eighteen passengers out of a total of 175 on the train were injured, but nobody was killed, and it is not believed any of the injured will die.

The train was going at a high rate of speed and the rail broke beneath the engine, which, however, passed the place in safety.

All of the baggage and mail cars, coaches and sleepers left the track, and some of them were badly damaged. There is no embankment at the place of the accident, and the train merely plowed their way along the ground at the side of the track for a considerable distance before being brought to a stop.

POMEROY INVESTMENT CO.

Incorporation Papers Filed in Cripple Creek—Office in Colo. Springs.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—Articles of incorporation for the Pomeroy Investment company were filed today with the county clerk by James P. Pomeroy, Frederick W. Stehr and J. A. Council.

The company is capitalized at 5,000 shares, at $100 a share, and is to exist for a period of 20 years. The principal office is located in Colorado Springs. The incorporators, together with Frances P. and Alan son L. Daniels, constitute the directorate. The purpose of the organization is to acquire land by purchase or lease, and to do a stock, bond and mortgage business, principally in Colorado and Kansas.

PORTUGUESE IMMIGRATION

Close Inquiry Being Made Into Affair at Hawaii.

HONOLULU, Dec. 5.—U. S. Commissioner of Immigration Sargent is making a close inquiry into the conditions attending Portuguese immigration into the Hawaiian Islands. He is endeavoring to ascertain whether the immigrants are actually free or whether the planters have furnished money for their transportation. On this point, Governor Carter and other officials have been rigorously questioned.

1,683 BIDS FOR LANDS

Many People Desire Portion of "Big Pasture."

GUTHRIE, Okla., Dec. 5.—A special to the State Capital from Lawton, Oklahoma, says that with the closing of today's business, 1,683 bids for lands in the "Big Pasture" had been received. Many prospective settlers are arriving on every train.

Major H. D. McKnight, register of the Lawton land office, today predicted that after irregular bids are thrown out and awards made, not one-third of the land in the Kiowa and Comanche reservations will be subject to entry under department rules. It is his opinion that the remainder of the land probably will be sold at public auction.

LEWELLYN MADE NO CHARGES

Major Denies Having Filed Information Against Hagerman.

ALBUQUERQUE, Dec. 5.—Maj. W. H. H. Llewellyn, United States district attorney for New Mexico, mentioned in recent dispatches sent out from Santa Fe as a participant in certain charges against Gov. H. G. Hagerman, which it is alleged, have been filed before President Roosevelt, flatly denies all knowledge of the charges in a statement given out here today.

"I have made no charges against Gov. Hagerman," said Maj. Llewellyn, "and I know of no one who has. I am engaged in attending to my own business, and I am with the governor in rightful efforts of his to stop graft in New Mexico.

$150,000 IS WANTED

FOR USE IN ESTABLISHING A STATE ROAD.

Next General Assembly of Colorado Will Be Asked to Aid Good Roads Movement.

DENVER, Dec. 5. — The Colorado Good Roads conference received reports from the special committee, headed by Thomas F. Walsh, appointed to draft a resolution concerning the establishment at Washington of a department of mines and mining and the committee on legislation today. The former committee submitted a resolution which was adopted.

A rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. Walsh for his work in the interest of good roads. In acknowledging the compliment, Mr. Walsh said:

"This is a work of pleasure because it is a work of unselfishness. It is the dearest wish of my heart that by our efforts here we can add to the prosperity of our state and line these roads with the homes of prosperous and happy citizens."

E. A. Colburn, chairman of the committee on legislation, read the temporary draft for a bill to be presented to the next general assembly of Colorado. The bill provides for an appropriation of $150,000 from the general fund for the purpose of establishing a state road and bridge fund. Added to this will be all unappropriated money in the internal improvement fund. The bill provides for the disbursement of this fund by a board of three state highway commissioners, whose duty, among other things, will be to meet at least twice a year in each judicial district for public discussion of road improvement. Discussion on the bill was postponed until tomorrow.

The principal speaker today was Governor-elect H. M. Buchtel. He believed every citizen wanted good roads, and that the legislature would pass a law systematizing road making. It would not be wise, however, to have the legislature take action unless the project was backed up by more people than were then listening to him. He advised the leaders of the good roads movement to secure petitions from every community in the state. He favored legislation approved by men of sound judgment, and he was of the opinion that those present at this conference reflected the best judgment of the people of the state.

Before adjourning Mr. Walsh stated that he was to dine with President Roosevelt on December 15, and that he would use every effort at this meeting with the president to enlist his support of the plan for a department of mines and mining in the national government.

DAMAGE BY FLOOD

BUSINESS SECTION OF CLIFTON DESTROYED.

SOUTHERN ARIZONA SUFFERS

NUMBER OF DEATHS CAN NOT BE TOLD AT PRESENT.

EIGHTEEN ARE DROWNED

First Authentic News From Devastated District Since Disaster. Hundreds of People Flee to the Mountains for Safety. Traffic Suspended.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 5.—A special to the Herald from Clifton, Ariz., the first authentic news sent out of that city since the flood prostrated all the wires, says:

The river is receding rapidly and the weather has cleared, hence no further damage is apprehended.

Two bodies were recovered from the wreckage along Chase creek, but the number of deaths cannot be told. Joe Thorma, who was rescued from the flood and whose wife was lost, was taken to the hospital in a critical condition but will probably recover. Three Mexicans, caught in the act of looting, who refused to surrender to an officer, were shot and fatally wounded.

The flood in Chase creek was caused principally by the breaking of the dam of the Detroit Copper company, impounding a vast amount of tailings which came down upon the town with seven-foot breast. Only one business house on Chase creek escaped damage, and many were entirely destroyed.

Appalling Loss.

The loss is appalling. North Clifton was badly wrecked. Nearly all of the residences in that section were destroyed or damaged.

The Becker-Franz Mercantile company in that section was damaged to the extent of $10,000. The Coronado railroad suffered damage all the way from Clifton to Metcalf and it will be several weeks before trains can pass over its line.

The first train out of Clifton since the flood started today. It is doubtful if it can get as far as Duncan, as the Gila river is almost as high as it was in the record breaking January rise, and is still rising.

So many restaurants and hotels have been destroyed that it is almost impossible to find a place to eat or sleep in the town, but there will be no shortage of provisions as many stores have escaped the floods.

There is a report in circulation that the Arizona Copper company will remove its plant to some more suitable location, but no announcement to that effect has been made by the company. Several directors and the president now are here.

Traffic at Standstill.

All trains on the Arizona and New Mexico Railroad are held east of the river. The railroad bridges are so badly damaged that it will be impossible to use them for some time.

The Herald newspaper office and building was swept away and the Era has been put out of business for a couple of weeks, but will issue from the press of the Morenci Leader. The Era building was flooded to a depth of six feet, and the plant was greatly damaged.

SOLOMONVILLE, Ariz., Dec. 5.—As a result of three hours of steady rain over southern Arizona, the mining town of Clifton, with 8,000 population, is swept by a terrific flood and hundreds of people have fled to the mountains for safety. Owing to disabled wires, details are hard to obtain, but the known death list reaches 18 and will doubtless be much larger. The great proportion of the population are Mexicans and Italians, who live in squalid huts, now inundated. The town is built in three sections, Chase creek and north and south Clifton.

Reservoir Dam Breaks.

The catastrophe commenced with the breaking of a big reservoir in the mountains above, precipitating a vast flood upon the Chase creek section. The principal street is near the bed of the stream and was completely destroyed. It was there that the fatalities occurred, as the flood came in ahead several hundred feet, and engulfed the people without warning.

The dead are mostly foreigners, whose names cannot be learned. Two Americans are known to have perished, one being caught on a pile of wreckage and drowned. Heath and Sallie Cox are swept by the current of the San Francisco river. A new school building and scores of houses are gone forever. The railway bridge is toppling. All information is sent out from a telephone office surrounded by water. The great smelting works of the Arizona copper works are located at Clifton, and the company's loss will be heavy. The Arizona and New Railway Company will also be a heavy loser.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 5.—Early this morning the flood in the Gila river damaged Maricopa and Phoenix railroad bridges, making the situation worse between Tempe and Yuma. Two banks went out in the Salt river valley, two more in the afternoon. The water is receding. It was thought that more damage would be done by the Salt river, but all the dikes of Chaffey brothers of Ontario, Cal., at the mouth of the Salt river, held.

M'CREERY AND SMITH

ELECTED MANAGERS OF COLORADO COLLEGE TEAMS.

McClintock Made Supervising Manager of Spring Athletics. "C's" Awarded.

The athletic board of Colorado college met last night at the home of Prof. M. C. Gile and, besides naming the members of the football squad who are entitled to the official "C" for the season of 1906, elected the managers of the football and baseball teams for 1907 and originated the new office of supervising manager of spring athletics.

The men who will receive "C's" are Messrs. Hedblom, Morgan, Draper, Jackson, Cary, Mack, Cort, Fisher, Morris, Lennox, Hatfield, Seibird, Mills and Turner. The "C"'s are orange in color and are sewed on the front of black sweaters. These will be distributed to the men at the end of the week.

DONALD C. M'CREERY

Elected manager of the Tigers' 1907 football team at a meeting of the Colorado college athletic board last night.

The management of the football team of 1907 will be entrusted to D. C. McCreery, of the class of 1908, while that of the baseball team will be in the hands of O. W. Smith, also of the class of 1908, both of whom were elected unanimously.

James K. McClintock, this year's football manager, was appointed to the newly made office of supervising manager of spring athletics. It will be his duty to formulate the schedules of the various teams and look after the team contracts. Mr. McClintock's financial report for the football season just closed showed that the season paid for itself in spite of the bad weather anticipated in the early games of the year.

The question of whether the college shall have a basketball team this winter was left undecided and will probably be disposed of at the board's next meeting.

The board is composed of the following members: W. R. Armstrong, Prof. M. C. Gile, A. H. Fisher, W. G. Lennox, N. C. Morris and Hildreth Frost.

Gentlemen: As a general thing I am opposed to writing letters of praise and sentimental recommendation to medical firms after using their goods. SUCCESSFUL REVIVALS

MEETINGS AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH WELL ATTENDED.

Dr. Mahood Preached to Large Audience Last Night—Speaks Again Today

Interest in the revival services at the First M E church in this city is increasing and the meetings are well attended Last night Dr Mahood preached to a large audience on "Removing Stumbling Blocks Out of the Way" Dr Mahood will preach on "Prayer" at 3 o'clock this afternoon and again at 7 30 o clock this evening. The evening service will open with a song service led by Dr J. W. Potter and C F. Cary.

Dr. Mahood, in his sermon last night said in part

"We have been praying for a revival and God knows we need it in all these American cities but in answer to our cry for a revival He sends us this message of the text 'Cast ye up cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling block out of the way of my people' There are some professing Christians who need to repent of their sins, and if they do not they will continue to be stumbling blocks in the way of the progress of the kingdom They have neglected their bible, and prayer and Christian duty They can talk like an auctioneer at a sociable, but at the prayer meeting are as dumb as an oyster.

"Is it not strange that so many good people are so careless about their promises and especially about their financial promises The work of the church has been hindered so often by people who are not straight in their business dealings Is it not high time that we were rid of that old notion that a revival is a gathering of people to sing hymns and pray and shout A revival of rightness with God and man If there is a revival in Colorado Springs the business men will be the first people to know about it.

"Sometimes an unconfessed sin is the stumbling block There are no little sins in God's sight The treasurer of the street railway company in a certain city in Iowa told me that he received a letter from a young lady enclosing ten cents On two different occasions she had neglected to pay her fare In the same city the American Express company received a sum of money from a man who had taken it wrongfully in making change These are signs of a genuine revival.

"One of the most noticeable things about the great Welsh revival was the fact that when in any church or community the Christian people all got right with God and with their fellow men at once the spirit of God began to work among the unsaved If every professing Christian in this city would get right with God and then with their fellow men the revival fires would be burning all through the city inside of twenty-four hours"

HAS A "REVOLVING HEAD"

From the Kansas City Journal

An artist named H Costa known as "The Man With the Revolving Head" has been examined at a meeting of the German Medical society at Prague. He turned his head around naturally, as far as the shoulders and then twisted it further with his hands until he looked directly backward, with his chin above the line of the spine

WORK THAT TELLS

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Colorado Springs

Cures that last are cures that tell To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Colorado Springs. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Colorado Springs sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Mrs. E J. Cooper, of 133 Florissant street, Cripple Creek, whose husband is a prospector for a ... syndicate says. "In the month of June 1..., I gave for publication a testimonial recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. We had given them to our little boy when seven years old, who had been annoyed with a weakness of the kidneys for three or four years We tried everything in our power to get something to stop the trouble, but nothing did him any good until we procured Doan's Kidney Pills The remedy cured him completely He has since then had a severe attack of scarlet fever and we were afraid of a return of the old complaint but there was no sign of one This is why I re-endorse my original statement. I am well satisfied that the cure is permanent"

SUBSTANTIATE CITY ATTORNEY

Aldermen Say No Arbitrator Has Been Selected and No Date Set for Hydro Hearing

Alderman F S Tucker chairman of the finance committee of the city council, and Aldermen E B Hoeman and C B Seldomridge last night substantiated the statement of City Attorney W C Robinson which was published in The Gazette yesterday morning, denying that the city attorney had informed the council that an arbitrator has been selected and a date set for the hearing of the city's claim of $1,000 against the Pike's Peak Hydro Electric company

Alderman Tucker said

"The matter is still in the hands of the city council Attorney Robinson has been requested to suggest some one who will be approved by the council. Mr Robinson informed the council last night that he and the attorney for the Hydro company had each selected an arbitrator, the respective appointees being repudiated by the opposing attorney No arbitrator has been decided on, although there is a good prospect of one being agreed on in the near future

No date can be set for the hearing of the case until an arbitrator has been chosen who is mutually satisfactory

"No witnesses were named by the aldermen for the hearing Judge Robinson himself having pointed out that certain witnesses were needed to testify in behalf of the city, and it was because of his action that the council appropriated $2,000 for that purpose. The reason for the aldermen going into executive session is embraced in the fact that it was deemed unwise that the names of Attorney Robinson's witnesses for whom the appropriation was made should be made public. The reasons for this are evident"

The members of the city council also deny the truth of a statement in the local afternoon paper to the effect that nothing has been done in the Hydro matter during the last several weeks pointing out that the city has paid nothing to the Hydro company for electric lights since May and that by the end of this month approximately $9,000 will have been withheld from the company The entire claim of $1,000 against the company will soon be equalized at this rate and the city will have the use of the money until the case is finally decided just as though the company had refunded the rebate demanded some months ago

As for the report that the $1,000 expended for city witnesses would come out of the pockets of the taxpayers said an alderman last night the unexpended legal expense appropriation aggregating $2,411 will more than cover the amount

LOCAL MAN OWNS RARE CLOCK

Repeating Mantel Timepiece Made in 1785 for Polish Nobleman, the Property of S Klein.

A French repeating clock thought to be the only repeating mantel clock in the United States, was recently sent from Melic Austria, at great expense to Solomon Klein a jeweler at 22 East Huerfano street The clock was made in 1785 for a Polish nobleman of Melic and remained in that city until purchased from a Melic watchmaker by Harry Weisenbaum a friend of Mr Klein, and who is now at Carlsbad, Austria in the hope of benefiting his health.

Mr. Klein left Melic ... years ago and recently on hearing that Weisenbaum was going from California to Carlsbad requested the latter to purchase the clock for him The descendants of the nobleman who originally owned the clock were rendered penniless through the confiscation of their property by the government as a result of a political disturbance. All the personal effects of the family were hastily pawned the clock being sold to a watchmaker of the town

Klein remembering the name of the watchmaker, commissioned his friend to purchase the clock from him. The timepiece was secured by Weisenbaum, and owing to the absence of railway connection was taken by stage 100 miles distant to Carlsbad From there it was sent to the nearest seaport and expressed to Klein.

The clock is valued at $250 Mr Klein having refused an offer of $125 before it was repaired It is two feet six inches high and one foot six inches broad. The face is set in ebony, the wood having been carved in a single piece out of the log Above the face is a beautiful painting of Carlsbad, while on each side are two pillars of Italian alabaster The case is made of ebony

At the time the clock was manufactured candles and wax tapers were unused in Melic, then under Polish dominion Light was secured by burning sweet oil, and the clock was of the repeating order. The time could be determined in the dark by pulling a string attached to the works, when bells indicating the quarter hour were struck

Numerous "grandfather" clocks several feet long with repeating attachments are in this country, but the one owned by Mr Klein is claimed to be the only repeating mantel clock in the United States.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE LIQUOR LICENSES.

CARL ALBIN who was elected to represent the Sixth Ward in the City Council, is quoted by the Telegraph as saying,

The city treasury of Colorado Springs has already lost $1,500 because of the obstinacy and spitefulness of those members of the city council who want to favor a few saloon stores to the detriment of the others.

The reasons why the city is losing this revenue are quite different. If, by any unexpected whim, Mr. Albin had felt impelled to tell the truth, he would have said that the disgraceful condition which now prevails with regard to the liquor licenses is due to the loyalty to corrupt interests of five aldermen none of whom is one of the three unjustly accused by him. These five aldermen are

Carl Albin,
A. M. Hill
A. M. Holden
E. B. Hosman,
R. J. Verner.

It is now more than seven weeks since these five aldermen formed a combination to protect A. J. Ward and one or two other notorious violators of the liquor law by withholding all liquor licenses until the other three aldermen agreed to give Ward and his compatriots theirs. It is to the lasting credit of Aldermen Tucker, McCaffery, and Seldomridge, that they have consistently refused to be parties to this contemptible scheme. In placing the responsibility for the present state of affairs the people should bear these facts in mind. Tucker, McCaffery and Seldomridge are standing for justice and decency, the other five aldermen are simply dancing to the tune of Ward's fiddle. These five men have taken the position—morally indefensible—that no drug store in Colorado Springs however properly it may be conducted, shall have a liquor license unless licenses are also granted to three druggists who have persistently abused the privilege by conducting their places simply as disguised saloons.

The quintet headed by Mr. Albin are drawing salaries from the city, but their services are rendered to Ward and others of his ilk—the city's worst enemies—which, to put it mildly, is rather inconsistent. The situation suggests thoughts regarding the why and wherefore, anything but complimentary.

THE MESSAGE.

AGAIN the President's message is a big one. We don't suppose many of The Gazette readers have gone through the whole two pages of it; but if they do, they will find it worth reading. It is very Roosevelt-ian. It bristles with moral maxims and epigrams you could make up half a dozen good sermons out of it. It is full of vitality and energy, partly suppressed by the necessities of the case, full of enthusiasm and patriotism. A little impatient over the length of time it takes to get things done right—those Roosevelts say about five or six hundred years ago, would have been hard people to get along with—they would want to do everything, and "do it now." But the President has had a dozen generations of law-abiding ancestors behind him, and although he frets a little against the bars, he sees that the thing of prime importance is to effect reforms in a legal and regular way—that a sudden and radical attempt to deal even with existing abuses might and probably would do more harm than the evil itself.

His treatment of the San Francisco school question is an illustration of this. He evidently feels very strongly about it, for he calls the exclusion of the Japanese from the public schools "a wicked absurdity," but he recognizes his helplessness under existing constitutions and laws to give orders on the subject, and simply recommends that certain laws be enacted by Congress which will give to the executive more power in cases of this kind.

The matter of the black regiments is not taken up in the message, but questions concerning the negro race are discussed at considerable length, especially lynching and free schools.

The President evidently wants a whole lot of things he knows he can't get from this Congress. He wants new laws in relation to injunctions, additions to the laws on regulation of corporations, a national divorce law, a national inheritance tax and if possible, a national income tax, better provision for technical and industrial education, a ship subsidy law, a law that will provide a better currency, the admission of goods from the Philippine Islands at 100% rates of duty than now prevail, and a consideration of what had better be done for the Alaskan seal herd. It is hardly likely that he will get any of these things—certainly not more than one or two of them—at this session; and he does not press them so strenuously in the message as to intimate that he will use all the power of his office to get them through, as he did last session in the case of the rate bill.

It is obviously impossible within the limits of a single editorial to discuss the message in detail—all we are trying to do here is to give an idea of it as a whole and of the spirit that animates it. That animating spirit is the only thing that gives it cohesion. The topics to be treated in any President's message are necessarily so numerous and so widely different in character that it is apt to be a series of short monographs on totally unrelated and [illegible] subjects. In this case, however, we can [illegible] the personality of Theodore Roosevelt sticking [illegible] almost every paragraph, and that certainly [illegible] it more interesting than it otherwise would [illegible] the people of this country like Mr. Roosevelt, and they will take more preaching from him than they would from almost anybody else. And Republican senators at Washington will do well to notice that the people are not tired of the President yet, and that this is not a good time to start a new fight against him.

TOO MUCH CONSTITUTION.

IN THE Legislative Manual of the State of Colorado the Constitution of the United States, with all the amendments, occupies ten pages; the constitution of the state occupies a little more than forty-two pages.

The constitution of our state is not lonesome in its length—all the newer states have long ones, some of them probably longer than ours—and all of them have amendments; for the more you put into a constitution the more you will have to change it to meet new conditions as from time to time they arise.

The people of Oklahoma are making a constitution now. We don't know that what we write here will change their procedure—in fact, we rather incline to think it will not—but we will give them the benefit of our advice free, and then if they go astray it will be their own fault. We are told in the News columns that some of the vital questions that are being considered are prohibition of the sale or use of liquor, the fixing of railroad rates, the separation of the races in schools; and also on public conveyances, the regulation of corporations in general, and the fixing of taxation. It is implied that there are probably many other things, not so vital, which are to be included, or which somebody wants included, in the new document.

Our advice to the Oklahomans is: Cut it short.

Nearly all the state constitutions contain a lot of things which might much better be in the statutes—and some that might better be nowhere. The Federal Constitution is a good model. It is the oldest document of its kind in the world. It has proved adaptable to changing conditions for nearly a century and a quarter. It has had to be amended only twice, practically, for the twelfth was the first amendment after the early days, and the next three were all passed near the same time and as the result of the war. But the original document stands unaltered, and so perfectly has its simple language conveyed the principles the fathers wished to incorporate, and so wisely did they leave small details to the interpretation of the courts and the enactment of the Congress, that our Constitution seems likely to last as long as our continent. There was never a better constitution in the world. There may be many worse than Colorado's, but it would be better if it had been shorter to start with and with fewer amendments since. We fear that Oklahoma will have the same experience.

The Good Roads convention has a good attendance, great interest is shown in the proceedings, and they propose to do something practical. They propose however, to suggest an amendment to the constitution of the state—somewhat similar in character we suppose, to the one recently adopted in New York—providing that the state may issue bonds for building roads. The people of New York are going to spend fifty millions of dollars in this way. The state of Colorado might perhaps afford to spend a small fraction of that. But a constitutional amendment is slow, and it would be about four years before action could be got under that. Meantime there is much that can be done, and no doubt the delegates are aware of that and will present some measure to the incoming legislature besides the proposed amendment.

Alonzo Stagg is mother of the old-time coache who likes the new game of football, and declares it will develop into a finer game next year when its real possibilities are further worked out. Stagg is no moss-covered boulder on the shores of progress. He is still very much in the game.

The people who want a new currency and those who want a ship subsidy, and those who want further legislation against the trusts will probably get the answer from Congress that one gets so often from "Central": "Busy now."

For Judge Seeds own sake, we hope he will not in his last month of office be persuaded into any judicial act unworthy of his office.

DEMOCRACY TO THE SODA FOUNTAIN.

From the Denver Republican.

Hon. James Francis Burns of Colorado Springs has started out to sail in hand to give battle to the forces that would steal the "palladium" and the pajamas of Democracy in that city turned for its marble soda fountains.

This call to arms will not go unheeded for while Messrs. Bryan and Hearst may be too busy reading their former friends beyond the outer stake line of Democracy, the esteemed "Marse" Watterson of Louisville, Ky., that fountain head of freedom and mint julops will rise equal to the occasion and indite a second threnody to the Goddess of Liberty, now crouching, ashamed, in the very shadow of Pike's Peak.

The Democratic club of Colorado Springs, hitherto a sort of cave of Adullum, kicking out first at Patterson, then at Lindsey, is to be reckoned with. Persecution is going to raise it to the pinnacle of martyrdom. Fancy the home of Democracy covered with blue coats to prevent the dispossession to the membership of anything stronger than "pop" and colored lemonade.

On November 6 Democracy received what many considered to be the solar plexus down and out, but the worst had yet to come, and it such a time as this when hope for a season bade the world farewell and freedom shrieked where 'Old Perplexity fell' Fancy the Burnsites having to drown their grief at the soda fountain instead of the club that castle of the stout-hearted Democracy of El Paso county.

But in the hour of darkness a rim of silver appears in the cloud that hovers menacingly over Democracy. That wise Athenian Hon. Charles S. Thomas, has consented to take sufficient time from gold digging at Goldfield to go to the rescue of his former client Mr. Burns. The enlightened and eloquent Mr. Thomas will have no difficulty in demonstrating that a Democratic club minus a bar is a canine without a tail, a Hamlet without the Prince, a prison without the bars; in short that the action of the mayor and chief of police of Colorado Springs is one for the Humane society to deal with.

ABUSE OF POSTAL PRIVILEGE.

From the New York Tribune.

It is a pity that Canada finds it necessary, as she thinks, to abrogate the postal convention between herself and the United States, but it is not impossible that she has cause for doing so. Her objection is to the wholesale transportation as second class matter of the publications which can be included in that class only by means of a more liberal construction of the law than she is accustomed or prepared to give. The impression is not altogether unknown on this side of the line that some publishers abuse the postal privileges.

GOLD WONDERS OF NEVADA.

Nevada is developing into a new wonder of the world. It will without aid from other gold-bearing sections lift this country far toward new leadership in the world's output of the precious metal. The merits of the individual mines of the Tonopah Goldfield, Bullfrog and Manhattan districts are not well known to us, but these camps have been proved beyond a doubt. 'Charlie' Schwab was early on the ground, and he and his friends have already taken hundreds of thousands out of their ventures and will take millions more. A new district may be developed soon on the famous Comstock ledge in Washoe county in close proximity to other and newer Nevada gold camps through the exploitation of the Keystone Nevada mine. The company attracted attention last week by taking steps to wipe out the preferred stock originally authorized ahead of the common. The mine has been developed with workings of nearly 2,400 feet, and the ore in sight, it is claimed, will average not less than $25 a ton. Many samples have been assayed from the rich ore shoots from the vein, and have been shown by state officials and others to run into the thousands.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN COBALT.

From the New York Press.

Cobalt in Canada has by no means the experts say exhausted its wonders of production. Nipissing still remains the premier, with close seconds in La Rose, Trethewey, Silver-Cobalt, Kerr Lake and Silver Queen. But McKinley-Darragh-Savage is increasing its regular ore shipments. It is stated that two new veins have been discovered and that it is now certain that the famous Silver Queen main vein runs through the McKinley grounds. Some of the Nipissing experts have said of McKinley-Darragh-Savage: This property has always been highly considered from the standpoint of a shipping mine and should prove a splendid producer in the future. Little is heard of the Colonial Silver Mines company, but it is known to be adding to its holdings of property and to be securing fresh financial backing. Samuel Newhouse has gone into Cobalt and united several properties under the King Edward company and rumor has it that he has ventured to pick up the famous Lawson" mine now involved in most intricate litigation. Newhouse is said to have enlisted several members of New York's '400' in his enterprise and they seem to be satisfied that they have good properties irrespective of the Lawson. If the Lawson title is cleared, great things will grow out of Newhouse's King Edward. One of the largest and strongest houses in the street is understood to be identified with this Cobalt combination.

LOW AMERICAN IDEALS.

From the Philadelphia North American.

There can be no gainsaying that Americans are veritable barbarians when it comes to matters of art. We show this by our treatment of artists.

This country is in for another scoring by the highly virtuous—exclusively artistic virtuous, of course—critics of Europe, because of our treatment of a noted opera tenor. It certainly shows the veriest lack of musical taste on our part that our women should object to the little pleasantries of so famous an artist.

It is quite in line with our insisting a year or two ago that another celebrated operatic star, who visited us, should observe the trifling formality of keeping his contracts and paying his debts.

And another and more recent instance of our gross Philistinism was the ridiculous notion of our people that a certain Russian literary artist who came to enlighten us should so debase himself and his ideals as to refrain from public cohabitation with a woman not his wife.

No wonder Europe is disgusted with us. No wonder some of our own highly sublimated disciples of art blush for the shame of their rude, low-browed countrymen.

Yet, we suspect that America will continue to encourage art more than any other country of our day, by making it worth while for artists to strive for high accomplishments. The homes of our millionaires will grow more and more to be the most remunerative and therefore the most desirable salons of painting. Our public building commissions will offer the greatest inducements to sculptors. It will be some time before our "best six sellers" are a library of the greatest contemporary literature, but a Metropolitan opera house engagement will for years to come be the aspiration of every European singer, despite the demonstrated savagery of American monkey houses.

HACK WRITER BY ACCIDENT

How George Ade Began His Famous Series of Fables.

From the Washington Post.

This is the way George Ade came to write in slang.

He had been writing for the Chicago paper on which he made his reputation a daily column of matter called "Stories of the Street and of the Town." One day he was hard put to it for copy and to take the place of the usual string of sketches he wrote an account of a church social which he had heard from the lips of a tough and stringy youth who had been held up for tickets by a member of his family. Mr. Ade gave the name of "Artie" to the young man.

The sketch was written with no thought of fame ahead but merely to fill a column. The comments on "Artie" were so favorable that "Artie" appeared again the following week this time sharply giving an intimate picture of a poker game. Thereafter the demand for "Artie" was so pronounced that he made weekly appearances.

These "Artie" stories constituted Mr. Ade's first book being published between covers in 1896. Six years later a hundred thousand copies of the book had been sold.

Mr. Ade's second book was "Fables in Slang," and two years after "Artie" he produced the Pink Marsh papers, both selling well up in the thousands, and adding greatly to his reputation gained by cultivating "Artie."

It was in 1899 while considering with his publishers a book to be issued for the Christmas season that Mr. Ade said after stating it to be his opinion that the American public took kindly to the humor of the up-to-date slang in its most aggravated form:

"My notion is to run the slang of Clark street (Chicago) into the ponderous and archaic mold of fable. That ought to give a contrast that will jar them."

And so was born the illustrated "Fables in Slang"—so famed in fact as almost but not quite to make the public forget "Artie."

"More Fables" followed. Then came "The Girl Proposition" and laughter rolled from every corner of the states. In quick succession appeared the books "People You Know," "Breaking Into Society" and "True Bill." Mr. Ade's most recent book is "In Pastures New" in which the author goes abroad in company of the solemnity Mr. Peasley of Des Moines. It was Peasley, who going to Brussels, got off at Antwerp and didn't discover the difference until he had gone sightseeing all over the town with a guide book and a map of the former city admiring everything and identifying everything in due order.

Mr. Ade's entry of the dramatic field was quite as accidental or unintentional, as his pre-emption of the field of slang. A young friend a composer asked him to write the words of a song. Before Mr. Ade was aware of it the song had developed into the libretto of a musical satire intended for amateur publication. Henry Savage heard of the piece at once secured it and so the world of fun became acquainted with the joys and woes of the Sultan of Sulu. This was in 1902. "Peggy From Paris" followed the next year, and in that year also was produced the "County Chairman." Two years ago came the "Sho-gun" and "The College Widow."

Mr. Ade's first theatric effort was made when he was 14 years old. It was called "A Basket of Potatoes." Oddly enough it was a form of a fable and it saw the light of day in the Gazette of Kentland, Ind., where Mr. Ade was born.

While at Purdue university, where he graduated in 1887, Mr. Ade wrote for the university publications and was university correspondent for several city papers. After leaving college, he worked on two newspapers in Lafayette, the university town. In June of 1890 he went to Chicago and got a job as reporter on a Chicago paper at $10 a week.

Less than ten years later he was gathering in the dollars by the thousands.

With a portion of the money that was poured in on him as a result of writing slang to suit the popular fancy, Mr. Ade has purchased an extensive farm near Brook, Ind. Here he spends a good part of his time. And though he delights to loaf on the farm still he sees to it that it brings him in 8 per cent on the money invested. He calls his acres—some 900 in number—Hazeldon Farm.

Mr. Ade's parents are living in Kentland. They will soon celebrate the fifty-sixth anniversary of their wedding.

AN ODIOUS SUGGESTION.

From the New York Sun.

In one form or another the following story is a classic in so-called financial communities everywhere.

Once there was a man who had lived a good while, had heard much and seen more and had reflected a good deal on his experiences and observations. As a result he would say when he heard some one grumbling about his gas bill, or the price he had to pay for transportation for himself or goods, or the cost of corporation products and wares in general:

"I'll tell you how to get even. Buy some of the stock."

The address which Judge Grosscup made it the knife and fork club dinner in Kansas City on the problem of the trusts and the way to control them—a subject with which Judge Grosscup is now identified in the public mind, as a result of much speaking on it—might almost be considered a version of this anecdote. Although Judge Grosscup spoke at length and dealt with many phases of the problem, the point of the story and the pith of his address were the same—that the best way to obtain redress for grievances alleged against corporations was to buy their stock. Nothing is said as to how much stock, for that is not the point at all.

At first sight this has a reasonableness that attracts, but it must be that the reasonableness is more apparent than real, specious that is. One of the pioneer thinkers, that great Bostonian who discovered the fiends of finance and from whose pen fact that looks like fiction and fiction that looks like fact flow with equal copiousness and ease, has for the last two or three years been proclaiming to the public that it should sell all stocks and buy none—except now and then in one or two of his mining propositions. If that is not enough to say about the advantage to buy stock as a way of getting even with corporations is essentially odious. The Great Druid of Concord, the Lincoln Omniscient says that the way to control the trusts is to destroy them. Only this week he proclaimed anew in that epitome of wisdom which he publishes for the good of the world and his own pocket that Democrats connected with trusts and franchised corporations were a detriment to the party. From detriment to enmity the passage is easy, and from enmity to the Democratic party to enmity to the country is but a step. Judge Grosscup must be one of the country's enemies. Any unreasonable man could see that at a glance.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"THE COLLEGE WIDOW."

That valuable bit of theatrical property "The College Widow" will be the attraction at the Opera house on next Saturday evening which means, among other things, the necessity of early action on the part of would be seat purchasers. It can unhesitatingly be said that this production by Henry W. Savage of George Ade's comedy has drawn more people than any American play written in the last decade and it is a safe prediction that its longevity is a matter of many seasons. Mr. Savage is said to have engaged for the present four an unusually able organization for the strong type around which Mr. Ade has built his play.

AIDA HEMMI IN "THE STROLLERS."

Aida Hemmi the beautiful prima donna of the San Francisco Opera company will visit this city as prima donna soprano of that company the organization that will present "The Strollers" at the Opera house on next Monday evening. Miss Hemmi was educated for grand opera and notwithstanding the rising experience of years in comic opera she comes with her beautiful soprano voice rich and full as unimpaired in power and beauty of quality and still remarkable for its range and expressive power as when she made her first appearance in America at Carnegie hall New York some years past. There can be no gainsaying the fact that Miss Hemmi is the foremost prima donna soprano in comic opera. The warmth and spirit she delivers her fine articulation and dramatic intensity never fails to drive her audience to her chariot coursing in song. As Bertha in "The Strollers" Miss Hemmi has a part that not only gives her ample opportunity for the display of her beautiful voice, but for her histrionic ability as well.

"AT CRIPPLE CREEK."

A comedy impersonation that is finding high favor with audiences wherever the play is produced is the Ben White "Always Been Black" of Frank Colton in "At Cripple Creek" to appear here at the Opera house next Wednesday evening. Mr. Colton is unctuous and wholly delightful in the part of the much married colored man. His experience as a minstrel man and in the specialty field of the earlier days has made him a comedian whose late talents are always in great demand. Mr. Colton was one of the original members of the famous Haverly companies of the Halcyon days of that organization. As an end man he ranked high in the burnt cork profession. Mr. Colton is versatile in his comedy work, his experience embracing all lines of character comedy. He is just as clever in Irish and German roles as he is in black-face.

"THE WOMAN HATER."

Harry Beresford the funny comedian in "The Woman Hater," will be the attraction at the Opera house on Friday night of next week. Manager J. J. Coleman has engaged an excellent company to support Harry Beresford this season. Miss Helen Travers will be the leading comedienne. Miss Margaret Lee will be the character comedienne and Miss Mildred Johnson will be the ingenue. It is rather remarkable that every part in this play is a comedy part, for even comedies often harbor a villain and other serious roles. William C. Andrews will be the principal character comedian in support of Mr. Beresford. Otto F. Andrie will essay the eccentric character comedy role and H. H. Sleight will have a character comedy part. Edwin Belden will be the light comedian and be it said with due reverence his good looks will please the ladies. Harry Creighton will portray a character role and last, but not least, C. T. O. Pugh will strive to amuse in a similar character.

MINING MARKET IS BOOMING

Steadily Increasing Buying Orders Show Effect on Prices—Many Stocks Advance.

Steadily increasing buying orders from outside investors are showing their effect on the mining market. Yesterday's call was the best of the entire year, a decided gain over the advanced prices of Tuesday being noted. In the mines especially was this improvement shown, but the prospects and cheaper stocks were in good demand at higher prices.

In the mines, C. K. & N. gained to 15, an advance of 4 cents during the last two days. El Paso gained 2 cents to 63, Elkton and Findley scoring the same advance to 65 3-8 and 70, respectively. Gold Dollar was stronger at 8 1-4, as was Gold Sovereign at 6 1-2. Index netted a fractional gain to 6 3-4. Mary McKinney recovered to 70 and Moon Anchor sold up to 3 3-4. Prince Albert was higher at 1 3-4, while Portland closed without sale at $1.47 bid, no stock being offered. Vindicator touched the $1 mark for the first time this year, 1,000 shares selling at that price. Work, which declined on Monday, sold up to 28 1-4.

In the unlisted, Jennie Sample was strong at 9, while in the prospects Mountain Beauty was a decided feature. This stock, which a few weeks ago was selling around 7 cents, yesterday jumped to 15 1-2, a gain of 4 cents in two days. Blue Bell, Little Puck, Midway and Republic were among the other strong prospects.

No Opium in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is not a particle of opium or other narcotic in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and never has been since it was first offered to the public. It is as safe a medicine for a child as for an adult. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds and croup, and can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

SELLS CIGAR STORE—The management of the McRae cafe yesterday secured a lease on the property at 105 East Pikes Peak avenue, now occupied by the Wollaston cigar store, and will immediately enlarge the cafe, the improvements to cost about $5,000. The seating capacity of the cafe is to be increased to 200, and the entire restaurant refurnished. The stock of cigars was purchased for about $1,000 by the Owl Drug company. Mr. Wollaston will go west, probably to Salt Lake City.

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

THOUGHT IT WAS EASY MONEY

This Man Chased Dog Poisoner All Over Town But His Wife Spoiled the Dream.

"I had gone home tired and considerably out of sorts, and, after eating supper in silence, had sought the consoling environment of my library and big easy chair," said a resident of East Pike's Peak avenue to a representative of The Gazette yesterday.

"A friend had just given me a gilt-edge tip to buy a certain Nevada mining stock which he was sure would jump to a fabulous price in a few weeks. I hadn't a cent of ready money that would warrant me in telegraphing for an option. Try as I would, I could not figure out a possible way of raising the money in time to take advantage of the opportunity. I finally gave up trying to solve the problem, and lost myself in a favorite book.

"Suddenly my attention was called to a woman, who came along the sidewalk under my window, and, looking cautiously around, drew a package from beneath a cape she wore and threw it upon the porch. Instantly it flashed across my mind that my bulldog was lying on the porch, and that the package the woman threw contained poisoned meat. Here, I thought, was the person who had poisoned all the dogs which have died suddenly in the city lately. And, best of all, here was the culprit for whom the mayor offered a reward of $500. In fact, here was the $500 that I needed to make my mining investment.

"I grabbed my hat, and, without stopping for my overcoat, bounded downstairs, picked up the package the woman had thrown at the dog, who was beginning to nibble at it, and started on a run for the Manitou car which the woman had boarded. It was a hot race to Tejon street, but I boarded the same car going south that the dog poisoner had taken. Holding tightly to the package, and keeping my eyes on the woman, I rode to the car barns, where she got off, and I did likewise. She started toward the east side of the avenue, and I followed. Suddenly she turned abruptly around and crossed the street. I was right behind her. I needed that $500 mighty badly, and I did not intend to let her get away.

"'You are following me, sir,' she said, and she faced me sharply on the corner.

"'I admit it, madam, you are worth $500 to me, and I need the money.'

"That woman's plea came nigh ending it all. But I needed that money so badly that I resolved to see it through. I looked in all directions for an officer, but none was in sight. I would have to telephone to headquarters. If I should go away to telephone, the woman would disappear. If I had figured hard to find a way to raise the money, I was now up against a problem equally as difficult. What was to be done? Why was not the city's officers covering their beats? Here was a desperate criminal, who was sure to get away—and with her would go the $500 which was to form the nucleus of a fortune for me.

"'George, George,' I heard some one exclaim, 'don't you know you will catch your death of cold if you sit up any longer. For land's sake go to bed!'

"I rubbed my eyes, and while I was pulling myself together in the cold library I heard the creak of the milkman's boots on the frosty porch below. I had been dreaming."

MORELAND OPTIMISTIC

TALKS OF COLORADO AND OTHER WESTERN STATES.

Says Mining and Agriculture Are Booming and Promise Great Future for This Section.

"The prosperity which has been enjoyed by Colorado for so long seems to prevail generally throughout the country to the north, west and south of us," said William H. Moreland, formerly of Colorado Springs, who stopped over in the city yesterday on his way to Denver, where he is now in business. Mr. Moreland has just returned from an extended business tour of Montana, Nevada and Arizona.

"Everybody seems to have money, and everybody is spending it. Wherever I have been I have found the business men optimistic, and all are prophesying a great future for this part of the union. To my mind, they have very good reason to do so. From an agricultural standpoint, Colorado and the country lying west and south of it is bound to become the equal of any section of the United States. The irrigation work the government is carrying on in Nevada and Arizona and in parts of Colorado, will reclaim land that will in a few years return values second to none in the world. Desert land that the government has turned water upon is today raising crops that have to be seen to be realized. Nobody can believe, without seeing, the magic results that follow the processes of irrigation. Millions of dollars will be invested in this reclaimed land in the next few years and this means a lasting prosperity for the west.

"My trip included a visit to the great boom mining districts of Nevada. Things are certainly moving lively in these parts. Money is much more plentiful than the necessities of life. There is much suffering in the camps and many will have to return who can not stand the hardships. Prices are inflated on everything to the point of making many things prohibitive, and there are many wildcat mining schemes being floated that will make many investors poorer but wiser men before conditions assume their normal basis. But there is no denying, with all the inflation, that there is a brilliant future ahead for the legitimate mining industry in Nevada. There is plenty of gold there, and not only will this make Nevada a very wealthy state, but agriculture is sure to follow, and I look to see the prosperity of the state become stable and lasting.

"In Arizona, too, everybody from one end of the territory to the other, is talking good times. When people are thinking and talking prosperity, I have always found that the times are really good. Money is plenty in Arizona, and the territory is developing in many ways. Nevada has not got all the gold; Arizona will be heard from some of these days."

Mr. Moreland, who is a member of the Colorado Springs lodge of Elks, and past exalted ruler of No. 309, was in Bisbee, Ariz., on Elks memorial day, last Sunday, and delivered the eulogy at the ceremonies held in the opera house in that city by the Elks of Bisbee.

HIGH SCHOOL ORATORS BUSY

Representative in State Contest to Be Chosen in the Near Future.

Preparations are being made by the Colorado Springs High school for a preliminary oratorical contest, at which time its representative to the Colorado interscholastic oratorical contest to be held in Boulder next May will be chosen. Among the most likely candidates is Charles Friend, a speaker of ability and a member of the sophomore class of the local High school. Last year Mr. Friend, then a freshman, won second honors in the Wright declamatory contest at the High school, and he has again entered the same contest for this year.

The contestants will be trained by Prof. Francis I. Walker, head of the English department of the High school. The contest at Boulder for the years 1903, 1904 and 1905 was won by the representatives of this city, and the High school was given a silver vase, each winning speaker receiving a valuable gold medal. Last year the High school failed to get representation in the final contest. The date for the preliminary contest has not been set, but will probably be some time during the latter part of March or first of April.

EVIDENCE OF ECONOMY

CITY TREASURY IS IN SPLENDID CONDITION.

No Appropriations Overdrawn and Many Not Exhausted—Council Holds Caucus.

The city council held a prolonged caucus in the office of the city auditor last night for the consideration of the various appropriations for the ensuing year. The matter will be taken up tomorrow night at an adjourned meeting of the council.

The condition of the various funds is most satisfactory. Not one of the dozen or so appropriations have been overdrawn, while many by far have not been exhausted. The legal expense appropriation of $2,000 has been taxed by City Attorney W. C. Robinson to the extent of only a little more than $500, there remaining in the fund the sum of $2,[illegible]. By the end of the fiscal year, which terminates with the calendar year, the appropriations as now will show a decidedly healthy aspect, and those conversant with the situation express themselves as well pleased with the results of the present year. An example of the economy of the aldermen is shown in the special appropriation of $250 for the decoration of the city hall during the Pike Centennial celebration, of which only $35 was expended. The remainder was turned back into the contingent fund.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY TONIGHT

Sale of Seats Is Large and Opera House Promises to Be Packed.

Everything is ready for the annual senior class play at the Opera house this evening, when the members of the High school class of '07 will present one of Clyde Fitch's plays, "The Climbers."

This evening's play will be the leading social event of the High school year, and promises to be well attended. The sale of seats has been heavy. The balcony boxes, decorated with class colors, will be occupied by the members of the senior and junior classes. Barnes' orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the evening.

The production will be in charge of Mrs. William Barber, who has been directing the rehearsals. One of the features of the evening will be the singing of a Christmas carol in the last act by Miss Edith Miller, a little girl of 11 years, who is said to be a singer of marked ability. Miss Jean Laing, of the senior class, a well-known violinist, will also give a selection during the evening. The play tonight will doubtless be the best ever given by the local High school.

The funds derived from this evening's performance will be used by the class in securing some token of remembrance to be presented to the school at the close of the school year. This is an annual custom. Jean Vanatta is manager of the play. Attractive souvenir programs have been made.

The cast of characters is as follows:

ROOT BUYS MORE PROPERTY

Will Build Two Houses at Corner of San Miguel and Wahsatch.

The property, 100 feet by 190 feet, at the southeast corner of San Miguel and Wahsatch, was purchased yesterday by William B. Root from Thomas L. Reasoner and Theodore P. Bray. The deal was negotiated by Henry LeB. Wills & Co. The consideration will not be made public. Mr. Root, who came here recently and bought a residence on North Weber, near Cache la Poudre, added this new property to his possessions as an investment, intending to improve it to the extent of building two other houses in addition to the one already there.

FRANCHISE IS APPLIED FOR

Dotterer and Compton Take Steps Toward Building Electric Road to Crystal Park.

At the regular meeting of the board of trustees of Manitou, W. C. Dotterer and Wesley Compton, representing an eastern syndicate which plans to build an electric line from Manitou to Crystal park, presented a petition asking for a franchise for the proposed road. The petition asks for a right of way for twenty-five years for a single track with necessary switches, turnouts, etc., along and across the following streets and avenues in Manitou:

Otoe place, Ute avenue, Navajo avenue, Pawnee avenue, Deer Path avenue, Midland avenue, Shoshone place, Central avenue, Antelope path, South path and Elk avenue.

The road is to be completed and put in operation by the end of two years, according to the petition, and not more than five cents shall be charged for fare within the corporate limits of the town. The petition also states that the line need not be operated every day during the year, but must be operated at least during the months of July and August, and the speed of the cars shall not exceed twelve miles per hour. No mention is made of the fare which will be charged outside of the town limits, nor is mention made of the right of way into Crystal park. It is understood, however, that the old roadbed built twenty five years ago for a projected steam line to the summit of Pike's Peak via Crystal park and Cameron's Cone will be used. About $250,000 will be expended. The Pike's Peak Hydro-Electric company will furnish the power under contract.

The petition was read and referred to the next meeting, which will be held on December 18.

Miss Maude Fealy, who bears the reputation of being the most magnetic young American actress, will be seen in the Opera house here on December 29 in a play entitled "The Illusion of Beatrice," under the management of John Cort. Her representative, R. W. Priest, is in the city and prophesies unbounded success for the clever Denver girl, who held the position of leading lady for one entire season with Sir Henry Irving and similar positions with E. S. Willard, William Gillette and William Collier.

Mr. Priest's theme is that this clever actress is all and more than the press reports claim for her.

Miss Fealy is well known in Colorado Springs, having spent the summer at Broadmoor three years ago.

JEWEL CASKET VEIN

RICH STRIKE ON STRATTON'S INDEPENDENCE.

Grab Sample Taken From 200 Tons Runs $70.—Another Find in Same Property Runs $130.

Special to The Gazette.

VICTOR, Dec. 5.—One of the most important strikes that has been made in the Cripple Creek district in a number of months was encountered yesterday by N. F. Wilson between the four and five hundred foot levels in the Stratton's Independence, limited.

Wilson has uncovered the rich flat vein which produced $2,000,000 in the celebrated "Jewel Casket" in this property. The vein is now 25 feet wide and eight feet thick.

The first round of machine shots yesterday broke down approximately 200 tons of ore, and a grab sample went $70. Huge pieces of rock were literally covered with sylvanite.

Riley and company, operating at a depth of 400 feet on the same property, have just opened up two and a half feet of ore which assays clear across $130. Riley and associates are operating under the new leasing system recently inaugurated, whereby the company exacts a 50 per cent royalty and furnishes everything.

GOLD DOLLAR VEINS GROWING

Size and Value Increasing.—Ore Now Returns Five Ounces Gold to the Ton.

VICTOR, Colo., Dec. 5.—Frank Saunders, operating at a depth of 635 feet in the Gold Dollar property on Beacon hill, has opened up a body of ore which is not only increasing in size, but showing better values, and now gives returns of five ounces to the ton.

A carload shipment was made today and it is expected that in future from three to four consignments will be made each week. Development work is progressing actively and will be pushed throughout the winter months.

The Trilby mine, which was recently purchased from the Moose company, was started up this morning after a suspension of work for over three months. The property is in charge of James T. Stewart, and a large force of miners has been engaged.

There are two good ore bodies known to exist in this property and these will be followed and thoroughly developed.

The new operators promise to put the mine on a big paying basis, expecting to take a foremost place among the shippers of the district.

VEIN IN VIRGIN TERRITORY

Rich Strike Reported in the Great Granite Mine on Battle Mountain.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—The great Granite mine on Battle mountain, a close corporation, about which much has been written, is again in the limelight with another rich strike at great depth. It is reported on splendid authority that at a depth of 1,000 feet a new vein in virgin territory was uncovered in the course of development work, which is now about one foot wide and which gives assay returns clear across the twelve inches of seven ounces. The vein is gradually widening as development work progresses. The average grade of ore shipped from this property is two ounces and the tonnage is third or fourth in rank in the camp.

UNCOVERS TWO-FOOT VEIN

Gold Bond Syndicate Company Encounters Rich Ore.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—The Gold Bond Syndicate company, leasing on the Gold Bond property, the World's Fair claim on the west slope of Gold hill, has uncovered a two-foot vein on the 400-foot level which is giving assay returns of about $40 in gold to the ton. Ore is now being saved preparatory to making the initial shipment. The ore was found only a comparatively short distance from the shaft. Morrell and associates operating on another block of the same property are crosscutting at a depth of 360 feet for the famous old Anstie vein which was a prolific producer of a good grade of ore for a number of years.

MADE CONSULTING ENGINEER

Argall Is Successor to Shroter on Stratton's Independence.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—Cable advices were received from London, England, today that Charles M. Becker, general manager of Stratton's Independence, limited, had announced the appointment of Philip Argall as consulting engineer for the mine, vice George Schroter, resigned.

ELKTON IS HIGH GRADE

RICH ORE IS NOW BEING MINED.

Sufficient Pay Rock in Mine to Keep Property Shipping for Three Years.—Untold Wealth.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—Not in six years, it is stated, has the grade of the Elkton Consolidated ore been as high as it has been during the present year. This company has opened up, south of the shaft on every level above the water level, big and rich bodies of ore. These ore shoots, which have been found during the past year while development was in progress, are as big and in many instances much richer than any heretofore found. Car after car of ore is shipped by the company which run three ounces, and every now and then a ten-ounce carload is shipped.

While there is a quantity of lower grade ore in the property, this is being allowed to stand awaiting a time when it can be more profitably handled by the mills.

The Elkton mine is today one of the very best in the camp. Not much is said about it owing to the officials being reticent about giving out information. It is known that there is sufficient ore of a splendid grade in the mine that will keep the property shipping for three years, at least until the deep drainage tunnel is built, and there is untold wealth in the rock now submerged.

RECORD OF THE OPHIR

OVER MILLION DOLLARS FOR YEAR 1906.

Shaft to Be Sunk to 1,000-Foot Point, Starting First of Year—May Consolidate With Jennie Sample.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—Great is the Ophir mine on Raven hill which rumor has it is likely to be consolidated with the Jennie Sample holdings at no distant date. It is doubtful if there is a mine in the camp that is making so good a showing, relatively speaking, as is the Ophir.

The management already shipped out thirty-three cars of ore in November, and not a ton of ore was sent out that gave values below $100 per ton. This would mean a gross return for the month of over $90,000, but much of this ore went eight, ten and twelve ounces in gold to the ton. When the balance sheet is cast at the end of this month for the year it is more than probable that the gross production from this rich property will show not less than $1,250,000, and perhaps considerably more.

The ore shoots which have been opened up and are being mined on the sixth, seventh and eighth levels are from five to nine feet wide and nothing but sylvanite and calavarite ore is to be found. The Ophir mine is owned exclusively by the J. J. Cone estate, and the only heir, Mrs. Anna Cone of Canon City.

Although it was only a few months ago that 100 feet of sinking was completed and a crosscut driven to the rich vein, it is being considered now to sink the shaft to the 1,000 foot point, starting early during the new year. As a producer and a profit maker there is not a property in the camp that is doing any better, if as well, as is the Raven hill Ophir.

FINDS RICH TWO-FOOT VEIN

Caley, on Arapahoe Claim, Getting Good Returns.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 5.—Frank Caley, operating on the Arapahoe claim of the Jerry Johnson company, on Ironclad hill, has encountered recently a two-foot vein at a depth of 440 feet, and a considerable distance from the shaft. Mr. Caley has expended a good many thousands of dollars in seeking this ore, which will run two ounces or better. He is now preparing a shipment of a carload lot which will be shipped to the mill this week. With 400 feet of stoping ground, Mr. Caley will rapidly acquire what he has expended in his diligent search for good values in the Arapahoe claim.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good, and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." All dealers.

HUMOR OF A PARIS SUNDAY.

From the Paris Intransigeant.

The compulsory closing act is developing the humorous sense of Parisians. The other Sunday a well-known haberdasher's shop had its windows beautifully dressed with cravats of every conceivable color and description. "Exceptional opportunity! All these ties only 15c each. For today only." But the door of the shop was closed and bolted. The next morning would-be customers flocked to it to buy some of the wonderful ties, only to learn that the notice no longer held good. This reminds one of the barber who advertised: "Customers will be shaved free of charge tomorrow."

A TEXAS WONDER.

There's a hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 160. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough, and doctors gave me up to die of Consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Now, after taking 12 bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured." Only sure Cough and Cold cure. Guaranteed by The Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THREE THOUSAND MILE NON-STOP RUN

From the Philadelphia North American.

The two-cylinder Maxwell automobile, owned by F. H. Tyler, completed a 3,000-mile non-stop run at New York, Wednesday, the feat being certified by an official of the American Automobile Association Racing Board. The car had traveled this distance since the preceding Wednesday, or a week's run. The average speed was 18.23 miles an hour, and the cost slightly under $50.

A MONEY STRINGENCY

STOCK MARKET STRUGGLES WITH SITUATIONS.

Speculators Carrying Stocks With Borrowed Money Affected—Call Loan Rate Highest In Weeks.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The stock market struggled with the money stringency today, but reflected clearly the difficulties of the situation for speculators who are carrying stocks with borrowed money. Loans were called from time to time on a large scale by the banks to reduce their deposit liabilities in the measure of the heavy drains that were taking on their cash reserves. Occasional liquidation was forced by this process.

The appearance of the annual report of the secretary of the treasury was the signal for a comprehensive recovery of declines leading to a halt in the market at about last night's level. The recovery was based on the assumption that the secretary stood ready to take steps to relieve money stringency in accordance with the strongly expressed views in the annual report of the duty incumbent upon him to deposit in the banks as much as can possibly be spared of surplus funds in the treasury if business conditions require it, though it becomes necessary to pay the current expenses of the government with checks on depository banks.

The fact that money conditions abroad also began to tighten again was regarded as an additional factor in favor of probable action by the treasury department, as the secretary was almost as emphatic on the necessity of aiding to prevent hurtful stringency abroad as at home. Much interest attached to the passage in the report which said:

"The United States can ill afford to disturb financial conditions in Europe, and if necessary to prevent it the present head of the treasury would not hesitate to make deposits in national banks on condition that the banks in turn deposit an equal amount abroad."

This was interpreted as an intimation that the benevolent attitude of the treasury department toward the import of gold might be conversely exercised on occasion towards the export of gold. That the course of money in New York and the resultant effect on the exchanges has been tending towards the further withdrawal of gold from London is the fear of the London market and this is regarded as precluding any relaxation in the money situation in London before the end of the year. Not only is currency going from New York to San Francisco to move the fruit crop and to New Orleans to move the cotton crop, but the drop in New York exchange at Chicago to a discount again marks a recurrence of demand from the west in spite of the high ruling rates for money in this market. Customs collections are running very large, the government receipts in New York from that source yesterday amounting to $1,89[illegible]. The loss of the banks on subtreasury operations since the last bank statement now amounts to $[illegible]. The action of the banks in calling loans needs no further elucidation. New York Central was temporarily strong on the increase in the dividend rate, which conformed to expectations. Intimations of additional capital issues by Atchison and Norfolk and Western foreshadowed the future requirements from this cause in the money market which are expected to grow. The urgency with which new capital continues to be sought in spite of the difficulties of the money market gives an impression of undiminished confidence in the permanency of the needs which are sought to be supplied by this outlay. The effect is to confirm hopeful sentiment over the outlook for values. This sentiment was apparent in fact in the stubborn manner in which stocks yielded to the money market inconveniences. The dull and obstinate resistance was shown up to the closing. The [illegible] per cent call loan rate is the highest since the first week in September when money went to 40 per cent and the banks reported a deficit at the end of the week.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value $2,850,000.

United States 4s registered advanced 1-4 per cent on call.

WHEAT MARKET IS FIRM

LOCAL BULLS AND COMMISSION HOUSES BUYERS.

Slight Firmness In Corn Market Early in Day—Sentiment Bullish In Corn Pit—Provisions Firm

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Despite the continued liberal receipts of wheat in the northwest the market here was firm all day chiefly because of the active bidding at Minneapolis by millers for cash grain. The fact that wheat at Liverpool was higher today also aided in strengthening the market as did unsettled weather throughout the corn belt. Local bulls and commission houses were good buyers throughout the day, the volume of business being quite large. Late in the day prices eased off somewhat because of profit taking sales by local longs. The close was firm. May opened [illegible] high at [illegible] to 78 [illegible] sold between 78 1-2 @ [illegible] and 79 and closed at 78 5-8.

Small local receipts and wet weather throughout the corn belt caused light firmness in the corn market during the early trading but later prices eased off and closed about steady. Cash houses were free sellers of both December and May because of an estimate that tomorrow's receipts will be considerably larger than the arrivals of today. This selling was the chief reason for the easy feeling late in the day. May opened a shade to 1-8 higher at [illegible] to 44 7-8, sold off to [illegible] and closed at the low price.

Sentiment in the oats pit was bullish but prices gained only slightly. The small movement and unsettled weather were the chief reasons for the firmness. Trading was confined chiefly to commission houses. May opened 1-8 higher at [illegible] sold at [illegible] and closed at [illegible].

Provisions were firm despite free profit taking in pork and ribs. The market was well supported by shorts and local packers who bought because of the continued small receipts of hogs at western packing centers. At the close January pork was up [illegible] at $17.00. Lard was up [illegible] @ [illegible]. Ribs were no higher at $8.07 1-2 @ $8.10.
